Favor Champs To Take Sixth Annual Michigan Canoe Marathon

Favored to win the 6th Annual Michigan Canoe Championship Race on the famed AuSable River for the third consecutive time is the team of Ted Engle, Jr., of Grayling and Jay Stephan of Grayling. Engle and Stephan recently won the Sturgeon River Canoe Race for the third time. But the Sturgeon River race is a mere sprint as compared to the 240-mile non-stop grueling grind down the winding historic AuSable. Several changes have been made in this year's rules and regulations, including the increase of prize money to $1,000.00. Under the 1952 rules, only stock model canoes will be permitted. Racing hulls have won the event in 1950 and 1951. The other important change is the starting time. All previous runnings of the AuSable canoe classic got underway in the afternoon. This year the race will begin at midnight, September 12th at Grayling (U.S. 27). This means that all six power dams on the course will be portaged in daylight. Previously, all dams except the last was portaged in darkness. The change to stock model canoes and the starting time should have little effect on the running time of the course, because contestants will be able to move more quickly across the large backwaters of the dams in daylight. The championship team of Engle and Stephan completed the 1951 race in the record time of 17 hours, 36 minutes, 55 seconds.

The canoes are expected to reach the first portage at Mio Dam early Saturday morning and the race is expected to end at Oscoda-AuSable Saturday evening after 6:00 p. m. (EST).

This year's $1,000.00 first prize is expected to draw expert paddlers from Michigan, Ohio, Minnesota and Canada. The Michigan Canoe Championships are jointly sponsored by the Grayling Chamber of Commerce, Oscoda-AuSable Chamber of Commerce, Mio Sportsmen's Club and the Glennie Business Association with the East Michigan Tourist Association cooperating.

Up to Monday of this week, Race Secretary Les Hunter of Grayling had only three teams who had entries in and fees paid. They were Dr. Ronald W. Smith and Gerald H. Hopper of Grayling, Eugene H. Hopper of Mt. Morris and Millard A. Newman of Chgo. and Dr. B. F. Bowers and A. G.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Waldo Buss, assistant director of the University of Michigan Hospital and immediate past president of the Ann Arbor Kiwanis Club was the speaker Monday evening at the Kiwanis Club of Grayling.

The speaker was introduced by Floyd Lake of the Grayling Club, who is chairman of the division's Forney Clement Memorial project. Mr. Buss spoke on the project which offers recreation and education to children confined to the University Hospital.

Mr. Buss traced the history and growth of the project over the past 25 years. Two full time teachers and a part time teacher are employed to handle the various phases of teaching through play. A library of over 3,000 volumes of selected children's books grows year by year, the speaker said.

About 3,000 children from all over Michigan, benefit by this Michigan Kiwanis program every year, he said. The top floor of the hospital is totally devoted to the playground for the children. Those who are unable to come to the top floor for play and recreation are served from movable tables which are brought to their bedside.

Local Pastor Named To Council Post

At the recent annual conference of the Free Methodist Church, East Michigan Conference, the Rev. Donald Cleveland, pastor of the Grayling Free Methodist Church, was elected conference young people's president and youth director. He will be working part time at his new duties, with the remainder of the time spent at the Grayling Society.

This week he and his wife are at Winona Lake, Ind., as delegate to the annual Youth Camp of the church. There will be delegates present from across the Nation. Speakers and workers at the camp will include missionaries and youth workers from around the world.

The pastor, Rev. Cleveland, will be back at his duties Sept. 7 in the local church.

NOTICE

Because of the Labor Day holiday the city of Grayling will pick up rubbish on September 8 and 9.

Storms of Benton Harbor. The City of Detroit, Department of Parks and Recreation are sponsoring a 1952 Belle Isle Canoe Marathon doubles which will be held on Saturday, August 30. This is being held in the way of an elimination, it was said, and that the first three teams to finish the rough course laid out around Belle Isle would be entered in the Michigan Canoe Championship Marathon on the AuSable River as the official entries from the City of Detroit.

As has always proved, the majority of the entrants in the marathon race the length of the AuSable River will probably file their entry blanks and fees with the Secretary next week with a few more being added the last day or so before the race is slated to get underway. Race officials look for a larger field of marathoners than was in the contest last year.

Grayling Loses To Consumers

The Grayling Independents traveled to Traverse City last Sunday to meet the strong Consumers Power nine from that city in a Chain of Lakes Baseball League game and were defeated 14 to 4.

It was a tight unscoring game for four or five innings until both teams broke loose for scores with Consumers having the better of it. Grayling started Bob "Musty" Childers on the mound with Clyde Anthony catching. They were replaced in the seventh inning with Bud Caid hurling and Ed Owen behind the plate.

Consumers started Phil Keway, former Grayling High School star on the mound with Sodegeran catching. Clapot replaced Keway in the sixth inning when the Grayling team started to hit and Keway threw a wild pitch. Grayling scored their four runs on four hits while Consumers scored their 14 runs on 14 hits.

Next Sunday, Grayling has an open date and will wind up the season with the Chain of Lakes League schedule on Sunday, Sept. 8, they meet the Local 945 team of Traverse City there.

Pair Waives Exam In Justice Court

Two escaped convicts who forced a Grayling taxi driver at gun point to drive them to Lansing are being held at the Crawford County Jail to face Circuit Court action after waiving examination Saturday morning in Justice Court before Justice Van A. Smith.

Daniel Bousha, 27, of Detroit and Glenn Elbert, 27, of Dearborn both readily admitted to their crime to Prosecuting Attorney Charles E. Moore prior to their appearance in Justice Court. Circuit Judge John K. Shaffer of Gladwin will come to Grayling this Thursday for a special hearing of Court to try the pair on the crime of kidnapping.

The two men, inmates at the Southern Michigan Prison Camp at Leelanau at the Hartwick Pines, overpowered two other trustees working with them near Higgins Lake last Wednesday afternoon, stealing a prison truck with which they were working, the pair drove to Roscommon where they broke into a Conservation Department warehouse and stole some clothing and a 22 caliber rifle for which they had no shells. Attempting to leave Roscommon towards Detroit and travel on backroads, they became confused and suddenly found themselves near Legner's Tavern on US-27 just south of Grayling. They then decided to abandon the truck and hid out in the woods until dark. They then covered Grayling looking for a car in which the keys had been left with the idea of stealing it, but were unsuccessful.

Winding up their last few days of field training, members of Michigan's 46th "Iron Fist" Division looked forward to payday on Friday and their trip home which will start for some units on Friday evening and will continue on through Saturday when the balance of the citizen soldiers will have left camp except for rear detail detachments.

The high point of the two weeks training at Camp Grayling was reached last Saturday with the annual Division Review.

Governor G. Mennen Williams arrived early Saturday morning for his annual inspection and review of Michigan Guardsmen after stopping at Petoskey to visit his daughter Wendy, six, confined to the Little Grand Traverse Hospital for a kidney infection.

After receiving the 19-gun salute accorded a state governor, Williams journeyed 15 miles by jeep into the pine scrub camp outskirts were armored units train.

The special review, the first of its kind, featured about 60 medium and heavy tanks at the armored training center. Later, from the training center, Gov. Williams inspected living quarters of the guardsmen during their two-week field training, their meal facilities, and recreational facilities.

During the afternoon, Williams reviewed the entire 46th Infantry division in the traditional Governor's parade which yearly attracts thousands of spectators and relatives of guardsmen.

Saturday night Williams was feted at the Governor's ball. For enlisted men, the weekend was spent visiting with relatives or sightseeing, outside of camp for a welcome break in the stiff two-week field training schedule.

The 425th Infantry Regiment was presented with 19 battle streamers representing engagements from the 1830 Indian Wars to the South Pacific campaigns of World War II.

Maj. Gen. Ralph A. Loveland, commanding general of the Michigan National Guard, presented 13 battle streamers to the 107th Combat Engineer Battalion for campaigns from World War I and II. Gen. Loveland commanded the battalion from 1917 to 1942.

Formal presentation was also made of bronze stars to Lt. Charles E. Ester, of Wyandotte, and M/Sgt. Mortimer J. LeBlanc, of Detroit, both of the 425th Infantry.

The medal is awarded to the outstanding enlisted man after a series of rigorous tests covering all military subjects. Cook, of the 19th Field Artillery, edged out a fellow Lansing guardsman, M/Sgt. Albert E. Powis, Jr., representing division special units, by a margin of only several points.

Sgt. 1/c Robert E. Herz, of Detroit, representing the 425th Infantry placed third. Other finalists were Sgt. First Class Orville J. McGirr, of Alpena, 126th Infantry; Sgt. First Class Lawrence F. Stover, of Kalamazoo, 126th Infantry; and Sgt. First Class Donald F. Gustafson, of Ishpeming, 107th Engineers.

The seventh contestant represented the anti-aircraft training at Big Bay.

Following the review, Governor Williams, General Loveland, staff officers of the Division and honored guests were entertained at a cocktail party and dinner by the 425th Infantry Regiment of Detroit at their Officer's messhall.

The Governor's reception party followed at the Officer's Club where the largest crowd in several years turned out to dance to the tune of the Division's dance band and to meet the Governor and Mrs. Williams, General and Mrs. Loveland and other high staff officers who stood in the receiving line for well over an hour.

The archway of the living room and morning room of the Davis home in Grayling was the scene of the marriage of Vivette Isenbauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Isenbauer of Grayling, and Ivan S. Davis Jr., son of Supt. and Mrs. I. S. Davis Sr. of Grayling. Large baskets of summer flowers banked the archway.

The ceremony on August 19 was conducted by the Rev. Elmer Steenson of Byron, in the afternoon. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A powder blue dress suit, with navy blue accessories was chosen by the bride, while her attendant, Miss Phyllis Ziebell of Grayling, chose a yellow suit and white accessories. Both wore corsages of roses.

The bridegroom and best-man, Carl E. Allen of Saginaw, were in dark blue suits. Mothers of the couple were also attired in blue with matching accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Davis received guests at a reception there. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake.

After their return from an up-per peninsula honeymoon trip, the Davises will live in Hillsdale where Mr. Davis has been engaged as Hillsdale high school track coach. He will assist as basketball coach and teach history.

A graduate of Merrill high school and Central Michigan College of Education in Mt. Pleasant, Mr. Davis was CMCE track team captain this year. He was awarded two outstanding achievement honors in athletics.

The bride, who reigned as queen of the Grayling 1952 Winter Sports Carnival, was graduated by Grayling high school this summer.

Guests attended from Grayling, Roscommon, Saginaw, Almont, Detroit, Otisville, Merrill and Gaylord.

Westcott, of Philadelphia, Pa., left early Sunday to attend the National Field Archers Association annual tournament being held August 25th through 29th in Minneapolis, Minn. County Holds Kidnappers For Circuit Court

They then decided to abandon the truck and hid out in the woods until dark. They then covered Grayling looking for a car in which the keys had been left with the idea of stealing it, but were unsuccessful.

At this point, Robert Max Baldwin, 25, of Frederic, the kidnapped taxi driver, who operates the taxi which he owns for his father-in-law, Frank Decker of Grayling while the National Guard training camps are in progress picked up the story, and said he was driving past a gas station in Grayling when two men hailed him.

He stopped and the pair told him they wanted to go to a tavern located about a half-mile south of the city.

When Baldwin arrived there, he said the men told him they decided they wanted to go to Detroit.

Baldwin told them his father-in-law usually made the out-of-town trips and he would have to call him, but Bousha pulled the rifle from his jacket and pressed the barrel against the driver's head and told him to "start driving for Detroit. This is a holdup."

A short distance later, Bousha took the wheel, making two stops for gasoline and another for cigarettes, each time making Baldwin pretend he was asleep.

When they were about 50 miles from Lansing, Baldwin said the convicts told him to drive again, and he came on into Lansing where the men were arrested.

When he was stopped by police, Baldwin said he was so nervous he couldn't hold his drivers license still enough for the patrolmen to read.

Bousha told Lansing detectives that he was serving a 10 to 30-year term for robbery armed, and had been with the forestry group at Camp Leelanau for about a month. Elbert, was sentenced to serve 3 to 15 years on a robbery unarmed charge and had been at the camp for three months.

Both men were previously confined in Jackson prison. Bousha was described by police as a "tough, nervous" individual who would have shot the officers and probably the taxi driver if he had had ammunition for the rifle he carried.

The pair, arrested at 1 a. m. Thursday by alert city patrolmen, were first scheduled to be turned over to state prison guards but it was decided to hold them there until the authorities at Grayling decided whether to file charges.

Lutheran Church Receives Gifts

Grayling Lutheran Church has received three fine gifts this summer.

Mr. Anthony J. Nelson has donated a fine altar cloth in memory of his wife.

Miss Anna Nielsen, Grand Rapids, has donated a Baldwin midgetograph with stencils and ink for the monthly bulletin.

Friends of Mrs. Marie Nielsen have donated in her memory a church guest book with stand.

Grayling Fire Department News

Four more good citizens donated flashing lights. They are: Pen-rods Cabins, one light; Stanley Madsen, one light; Al Walker, one light; Grayling Restaurant (Frank Roth and Joe Chicala) one light.

Above are four more Grayling merchants who this last week donated a flashing light to the fire department. We would like to thank these four merchants for their fine donations.

The Department needs only a couple more lights; would any one else like to donate one.

The weekly meeting of Aug. 25 was called to order by Chief LaMotte at 7:30 p. m.

The Department went on an inspection tour; going through Herliuf Sorenson's, the Shoppington Hotel, the Blue Room and through the annex of the Shoppington Hotel.

These were all big buildings and we spent a great deal of time going through each building.

After the tour we returned to the fire hall and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Sixteen members were present. Walter LaMotte Jr. was accepted in the Department as a new member.

Meeting was adjourned at 9:00 p. m. There was one fire this past week when a tar machine at the county garage caught fire.

"We are getting several more miles per gallon with our Dodge 'Job-Rated' truck — and in a small business like mine, economy is important."

"My Dodge has not only proved to be a real saver on gas — but we are real pleased with Dodge dependability. Hauling pipes, fixtures, plumbing tools and other heavy equipment has broken down several trucks for us. But our Dodge has taken heavy-duty use over bumpy roads for a long time now and we haven't had to have a single mechanical repair."

MICHIGAN
OUTDOORS*OPEN SEASON FOR CAMERAS

If you had a penny for every foot of film exposed to Michigan Outdoors this summer you'd have a corner on most of the copper in the country! However, if you got the penny for only every good picture taken you'd still have to worry about the high cost of potatoes along with the rest of us! Yet a very small amount of application on the part of the snap-shooter or movie maker can turn a dull shot into something glamorous.

Color Versus Black and White

There are two very different techniques employed in outdoor photography—one for you color fans, and the other for ordinary black and white "shutter-bugs." Color film is pretty expensive by comparison to ordinary black and white rolls, so you're inclined to take more pains in your picture making. And the finished product, whether it's an actual color print or a transparency, can be a thing of beauty—or a sorry waste of money! To get anywhere near the proper relation to actual colors of nature you must have almost perfect EXPOSURE! Don't depend on your eye to judge light values when you're setting your camera. The best photographers in the world—with thousands of hours of shooting experience—always use a meter. It may cost as much as $30—but it will always protect your investment in color film—and you'll bring home pictures you're proud to show.

With color MOST of your subject should be in bright sunlight, with shade used as contrast occasionally. NEVER stop down higher than F-11, and in hazy sunlight don't be afraid to open up to f.3 or f.5.8, especially in early morning or late evening sunlight.

Exposure to the proper light means a lot with color—but it's not quite so important with black and white film. Your over or under-exposed black and white negative can be controlled in making the print, so your errors are more or less forgiven. But less talk about the most important factor of all:

Natural Photography

Natural photography is the art of filming people and places as they really are, and not as they pose. Whether you're taking movies or stills, catch your subjects while they're talking, making the camp fire, cleaning the big fish, or just walking ahead of you down a lovely trail. People's backs make good pictures, too, with the proper surroundings. Next time you put a fresh roll of film in the camera concentrate on this point of natural photography—and next week let's talk about a big word that's easy to handle through the viewfinder—composition. Master this in a couple of easy lessons and you'll bring home golden moments in Michigan Outdoors every time!

Mori Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 10:15 p.m. on stations WJW-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

Do you believe in ^{Dollar} signs?

THERE are a lot of signs to guide you to the best buy in automobiles.

Popularity is a good sign.

It means that a lot of people have tried a car and found it good. So it's important to know that Buick is today — and has been since 1938 — the most popular car outside the "low-priced three."

Room, comfort, power, ride are good signs.

So it's important to know that you can pay hundreds of dollars more and not beat the room and comfort you get in a Buick SPECIAL.

Nor, at the price, can you match its power. And only Buick gives you a real million dollar ride.

Doesn't all this give you a hint?

Doesn't it suggest that you ought to try out a Buick — sample its Fireball 8 Engine — find out how it takes you over the road — feel the sure control that is yours on curves — discover its "big car" room and smoothness?

Do that—and look at the dollars on the price tag—and we know what you'll find out:

If you can afford a new car, you can own a Buick—and boy, what fun that will be!

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.
